

2022

International Teachers and Educators Program

The 3rd edition of the International Teachers and Educators Program is now open. Pilecki Institute invites teachers and educators from all over the world to participate. This year we are focusing on issues related to teaching about totalitarian systems.

International Teachers and Educators Program comprises:

- a 3-day online conference on 13–15 May 2022;
- an essay competition;
- a study tour in Poland.

Participants of the present edition will seek answers to the following questions:

- Why should we teach about totalitarianisms?
- What should such education be specifically about?
- How to teach about totalitarianisms?

Who can apply?

We invite school teachers, especially of history and social sciences, educators employed at museums and places of memory as well as all those involved in historical and civic education of the youth.

How to apply?

Applications are open from 14 March 2022 until 20 April 2022. Please apply via our form. You will be notified of acceptance no later than on 24 April.
